To Our Valued Provider:

Thank you for being an appreciated business partner of Johnson & Johnson (J&J) Consumer Companies, Inc. and the North American Regional Transportation Organization (RTO). We look forward to a continued partnership with your company.

As part of our focus on continuous improvement, accurate payment, and accounting for freight charges, the J&J NA RTO has committed to a series of initiatives which will improve our Freight Payment and financial processes. These improvements include improvement and enforcement of the time it takes our suppliers to submit a Domestic US freight invoice after a J&J shipment. As noted in our current Master Service Agreements:

“.....invoices for payment need to be submitted to our freight payment company, CT Logistics, within 90 days of shipment.”

This will only apply to the original billing for the shipment. This improvement allows for timely payments to our suppliers and helps J&J to achieve better accounting accuracy in the proper time period.

To support this initiative, Effective April 1, 2019, invoices for Domestic US received more than 90 days after the shipment delivery will be rejected by CT Logistics. This will apply to any shipments on or after January 1, 2019. For specific language covering this topic, please refer to your individual contracts.

Feel free to reach out to your J&J NA RTO Sourcing Partner with any additional questions you may have.

Thank you for your partnership and continued collaboration to enhance our customer and supplier experiences.

Best Regards,

Lesley Livingston
Director, North America Regional Transportation Organization Sourcing and Supplier Performance
